Fred Adams Paving Company
Announces New Hire

Raleigh, NC- Fred Adams, Jr., Vice President of Fred Adams Paving Company, has announced that John Saunders recently joined the company as a residential sales estimator.

“We are excited about having John join our team,” said Adams. “His experience in the hardscape industry complements the Fred Adams Paving team and is an asset for our clients and our business as a whole.”

Saunders has four years experience in the hardscape industry and is an Interlocking Concrete Pavement Institute (ICPI) Certified installer. This certification imparts the requisite knowledge, experience and industry guidelines required to build pavements using concrete pavers.
